

Research
Databases

via PREL

Need to Do Research?

If you live in the U.S.-affiliated Pacific and have computer access at home, work, or school, you are just clicks away from free online resources. EBSCO databases contain complete articles from 7,500 international journals in education, health, social issues, business, and student services.

Email askprel@prel.org or contact your local PREL Service Center for your password.

To access this information:

1. Visit PREL's homepage at www.prel.org
2. Click on "Login" under "Need to do research?"
3. Type in your password and click on "Login"
4. Click on a topic — for example, education or health
5. Select one or more databases and click on "Continue"
6. Type in search terms or phrases in the "Find" box and click on "Search"
7. View, print, or email your search results.

